LONG

In the midst of an uncertain time for so many, Alberta-based country band NewLaw, known for their signature earthy, harmonic sound and feel-good style are the breath of fresh air that the world needs right now. With a positive vibe as infectious as the music they create, the presence of this trio of brothers Cayd, Ty, and Dayne can not be understated. The energy that they each possess as individuals and that they emanate collectively through their music is as unique as it is uplifting and is not only easy to vibe to, but it leaves the listener wanting more.

Inspired by The Beatles and Johnny Cash, and later Ed Sheeran, Old Dominion, and Dan + Shay, NewLaw's musical journey began when they were young kids with all three initially learning to play piano. It didn't take long to start playing together, with the oldest, Cayd, sticking to the keys, middle brother, Ty, gravitating to guitar, and youngest, Dayne, finding his place as a drummer. Playing local gigs at coffee shops, farmers markets, and more recent shows on festival and concert stages, taught the boys two of the keys to their success: stage presence and perseverance.

NewLaw's debut EP, "Show You There's Hope" (2015) was followed by a successful second EP, "You + Me." two years later. The brothers worked on their third EP, "Wish I Was There" (2021), with hit songwriters and producers Brian White and Wil Nance in Nashville, who have both scored top Billboard hits for artists George Strait, Rascal Flatts, Jason Aldean, and Brad Paisley, just to name a few. Their most recent radio singles have achieved even more success, with "Next to Me" reaching the Canadian Country Billboard Charts and the CBC Country's Top 40 in 2020 and "Lucky, Stupid, Crazy" has over 220,000 streams on Spotify alone and NewLaw was among the Top 12 chosen for the final year of Project WILD, Alberta's top training program and incubator for rising artists.

Just as they do in life, being the best friends that they are, NewLaw flows effortlessly in perfect harmony in everything they do, but this is emphasized exponentially in their music, which they continue to perfect.
